

Continue

Antiques in the United States

We offer 18th and 19th century American furniture. Also English, Continental, Oriental and choice Victorian pieces including vases, prints, paintings, mirrors, lighting, nautical items and over 700 antique picture frames. Expect the unusual and ... Legacy Antiques proudly offers a fine selection of 18th and 19th Century French antiques including decorative antique furniture, antique lighting and much more! We consistently receive new shipments of antiques from France, Italy, Spain and other ... While nothing could ever rival the thrill of braking for a roadside barn sale, browsing your favorite shop or antiques mall, or spending the day at an antiques show (here's a list of some of our favorites), there are plenty of hidden gems on the internet that are ripe for the clickin' when you can't go pickin'. It's also easier than ever to peruse wares you'd otherwise never know existed, because everyone from traditional antiques dealers to casual collectors have gotten a whole lot savvy about selling their stuff online—some via websites, others straight through their social feeds (Instagram, mostly). Because you likely already know about the biggies—think Chairish, 1stDibs, RubyLane, Etsy, and eBay—we've rounded up 100-plus lesser-known purveyors of patina that antiques-loving Country Living editors have bought from and bookmarked, all of whom make it relatively easy to shop their wares remotely (regularly updated inventory, streamlined shipping, fast feedback, etc.). Here, some of our favorite vintage must-visits for when the antiquing itch strikes. (And when doesn't it, really?) Choose your category below and get started. (Psst: If you love antiques and aren't signed up for our antiquing newsletter, what are you waiting for?!!)Jump to:Credit: Stella Rubin Antiques Becky Luigart-Stayner for Country Living
For Patina with PedigreeOld Good ThingsScrolling through the extensive site of this New York-founded source is a bit like a stroll through a history museum. Find everything from doors from the Waldorf Astoria to stained glass windows from old churches. Redoing your kitchen? They're also the largest reclamer of chicken wire glass. For Industrial EdgeUrban RemainsThis Chicago source is the go-to for cool hardware, lighting, millwork, and more salvaged from iconic buildings and factories around the city and beyond.For a Lighting GlowUpPreservation StationDesigners love this Nashville resource for rewired antique lighting spanning a range of eras (1850s to 1940s) and styles (Art Deco, Gothic Revival, French Country), interior and exterior doors (and door hardware), old mantels, leaded glass windows, and other salvaged statement pieces sourced by proprietors Aaron Hetrick and Julia Petrova from all over the U.S. and Europe.For Farmhouse FavoritesSouthern Accents Architectural AntiquesFor over 50 years, the Gudder family has been rescuing doors and windows, hardware, mantels, and wood from old homes and barns soon to be demolished.For One-of-a-Kind CharacterAurora MillsThis West Coast wonderland includes an extensive collection of architectural salvage, garden gates, and reclaimed lumber along with cool furniture pieces (a 1940 cafeteria table! a birch wood store counter!).RELATED: Go Antiquing Like a Pro With These Tips From Designer Max Humphrey
Becky Luigart-StaynerFor the Best of the BrocanteFrench Art ShopCountry Living Design Director Maribeth Jones, who can officially claim the world's happiest kitchen, is an enthusiast of this Paris-based shop, which includes pieces—mostly landscapes, portraits, and still-lives—from the 1700s through the 1950s. And yes, they'll ship overseas. For Original PrintsNostalgia Fine ArtWarning: You could get lost for hours within this designer-favorite resource that includes authentic antique prints of everything from flowers to furniture styles as well as giclee reproductions that'll help you get the look for less. For a Classic CurationThe Atelier CollectionArt historian Hayley Stoen's cyber-storefront stays well stocked with found artworks from the U.S. and Europe, all of which come beautifully custom-framed. The site also features newer pieces by contemporary artists. For Birds and BotanicalsEtalage UKBased in the charming Cotswolds region, this U.K.-based shop ships to the U.S. and specializes in antique art prints and vintage oil paintings sourced from all over England.For Seascapes, Landscapes, and Still-LivesVintage Art EmporiumThis Australian site, which ships worldwide, is chock full of highly covetable, just-the-right-kind-of-faded pieces that can make a room. You'll have to pay a little more for shipping, so you might as well toss a few things in your cart to make it worth it, right? For Large-Scale LithographsThe Vintage PosterBrowse more than 50 subject categories at this shop that specializes in original antique vintage European stone lithographs. Want more gallery wall goodness? Keep scrolling! Many of the sites listed below also offer artwork.RELATED: These expert tips and ideas make planning and hanging a gallery wall easy!Becky Luigart-StaynerFor High-End Cocktail KeepsakesAndre Burgos Epicurean AntiquesWhen the "corkscrews" section alone has a drop-down menu of seven categories (French, English, German, Scandinavian, ...) you know you've stumbled upon a robust resource. For Old-World WaresAubergine AntiquesVisitors to Fairhope, Alabama, know to swing by this brick-and-mortar that stays well stocked with European pieces, but there's plenty to be found on their website, too. CL editors tend to head here to covet all the cookware, although you'll find plenty of furniture. For Copper CollectiblesPiggy KitchenFor beautiful cookware and French antiques that would make Julia Child swoon, highlight it to the virtual outpost of this Chicago-based resource owned by Bill Borman and Richard Thomas. For Man Cave MainstaysJ. Earl & SonsIrrubon, anyone? From ice buckets to bottle openers to decanters, this stately cyber-storefront feels a little like you've just stumbled upon a refined hunt club, but without all the cigar smokes. For Retro RefreshmentLollygagIf you're into midcentury-modern pieces, click through this shop that feels a bit like Betty Draper's wedding registry: blue egg dishes, daisy-yellow fondue sets, orchid-hued martini glasses. For Storied StemwareThe Hour ShopNamed after a 1950s book by Bernard DeVoto, this shop features more than 10,000 (!) vintage cocktail hour-related items. Even more impressive: Most items are attributable to known manufacturers. For Playful PourersSouthern Vintage WaresTo get a sense of this site's breadth, peruse the impressive selection of cocktail picks, then mosey over to the midcentury glassware. For Stately Serving PiecesWeston TableWhether you're craving a century-old cutting board, aluminum Champagne bucket, Majolica pie keeper, or a gurgling fish pitcher, you'll feed your appetite in the "Vintage and Antique" section of this editor-beloved resource. For Artfully Curated FindsWatson Kennedy Entertaining expert and author Ted Kennedy Watson has curated tabletop wares from his Seattle storefront for 20+ years. Browse his recent finds of hotel silver, French embroidered tea towels, and the French match strikers you didn't know you needed until now. (P.S. You may recognize Ted from the pages of Country Living. Tour his quaint 650-square-foot Vashon Island retreat here.) For Anything and Everything for Your Table Replacements, Ltd.You may know of this storied source as the place to complete your set of grandma's china, but it is so, much, more. Besides plates and platters in thousands of current and custom-made patterns (hello, transferware!), find pitchers, bathtubs, and more. For Country Living's favorite European flea markets and bringing back all the things you've seen in France, such as resinware, hotel silver, French linens, glassware, enamelware, and more.RELATED: 5 Vintage Kitchen Items You Should Always Look for at Estate SalesJulia SoeferFor Beautiful HandworkFlying GeeseJennifer Roth inherited her love of storied objects from her Korean-American father, who bought an antique rug the day he earned his first paycheck on a U.S. soil. Today, she curates thoughtful collection of quilts and donates a portion of each sale to organizations that support women's causes. For Top-Notch TextilesStella RubinOne of "the* most respected names in the quilt world, Stella Rubin has been curating antique quilts since the 1970s and has sold pieces to The Smithsonian, Colonial Williamsburg, and The Metropolitan Museum of Art.For Colorful AbstractsGee's BendHand-sewn by in a rural Black community in Alabama, Gee's Bend quilts have been displayed in the Whitney Museum of American Art and described in The New York Times as "some of the most miraculous works of modern art America has produced." For a Fresh Edit!Orl Jones StudioBased on (how fitting!) Block Island, Tori Jones, a former magazine editor, lends her discerning eye to a wide variety of vintage decorative goods but we're especially partial to the site's quilt selection.For Across-the-Pond PicksAntique Textiles CompanyShop via Instagram @antiquequiltscompany
Shopkeeper Christopher Wilson-Tate knows quilts. He bought his first one at 15, and has since sold more than 15,000. His beautifully stitched stockpile—mostly European, some American—can be found in a charming shop just off London's Abbey Road, but you can also get a good look on his regularly refreshed feed. For a Bit of EverythingCindys Antique QuiltsShop via Instagram @cindysantiquequilts
Oklahoma-based Cindy Rennels stays well stocked with quilts and camp blankets. The site's not the most sophisticated, but it's kind of like digging through a flea market stall full of hidden gems. For a Side of KittenCats on QuiltShop via Instagram @catsonquilt
When Marin Kirkey's cats Hunter and Apricot kept trying to photobomb pictures of her quilts intended for eBay, she embraced the moment and started the site where the cats regularly accompany the coverlets. She now sells directly through Instagram. For Sales on the RegularCaravan QuiltsShop via Instagram @caravanquilts
Based in New York's Hudson Valley, owner Sarah LoCasio is drawn to pieces from the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Follow her Instagram feed for regular "quilt drops" featuring a wide array of styles. For Affordable HeirloomsWhipporwill QuiltsTwin sisters who grew up going to auctions and estate sales teamed up to start this business devoted to showcasing their favorite finds, mostly sourced in and around their respective states of Arkansas and Maryland. For Welsh Woolen JeniseBased in Wales, this King Charles-approved shop stays well stocked with everything from traditional Welsh blankets to patchwork quilts to fringed plaid throws. For Beacon BlanketsCisno's GalleryThis Idaho retailer features a massive inventory of Native American art and artifacts including trade blankets, Navajo rugs, and woven baskets.RELATED: Country Living's Editor-in-Chief Shares Her Top 20 Antiquing Tips and TricksBecky Luigart-StaynerFor Prized Page-turnersRare Book CellarBrowse hard-to-find and out-of-print titles at this site for more serious collectors. We're currently coveting the first-edition copy of Joan Didion's A Book of Common Prayer. (The shopkeepers are also happy to help you track down a book that's not currently on the site.)For Cohesive CollectiblesBooks by the FootLook away, literary snobs. This site, with all of its color curation by color, is not for you. But if you're searching for a mass of pre-loved clothbound or leather titles in a particular shade, this is the site you'll wanna bookmark. For Bulk BuysThe Book BundlerShop the nation's top supplier of bulk used books by color or category. While you may not stumble upon a rare first edition, there's an especially good selection of kids' books. For Hard-to-Find CookbooksKitchen Arts and LettersOwned since 1983 (Julia Child was an early customer!), this New York City shop specializes in all things food and drink and has a special section devoted to rare and out-of-print titles. For Streamlined SpinesPretty Old Books$eems Dollar, a mother of five, started this site with a $100 gift card from her in-laws. Five thousand orders later, she's a resource for collectors of all kinds.For Barrister BookcasesEuro Classics AntiquesExplore Gustav Stickley writings, desks, Wernicke barrister bookcases, and other pretty wooden pieces at this Ohio shop that specializes in Arts & Crafts and Mission furnishings.For Childhood FavoritesLog Cabin VintageBrowse by category (folk tales, chapter books, mysteries) or author (Louisa May Alcott, Read Dahl, Mark Twain) at this nostalgia-rich Bucks County bookstore. The "Antiquarian" section features titles that pre-date the 1950s. For Sentimental SeriesunapartsNancy Drew lovers, take note: This Connecticut-based Etsy seller (previously named Carl Larson Art) stays well stocked with your favorite sleuth as well as other nostalgic favorites including the Hardy Boys and Tom Twins.Becky Luigart-StaynerFor Brand-Name BaublesWard VintageThis New Jersey-based shop is a dependable source for 20th century pieces—a Chanel chain bracelet, a J. Crew bangle—at a wide range of price points. For Treasured TrinketsCharm Co.Believe that ol' cursor to the site's "Vintage Vault" section which features diminutive delights of all sorts, including old-school rotary phones, 14-karat bingto cards, and, our favorite, "Vintage Bowling Girl." For Estate JewelryCroghan's Jewel BoxWilliam Joseph Croghan started this Charleston, South Carolina, institution more than 100 years ago. Today it offers a large selection of antique jewelry including pendants and lockets, brooches, and bracelets. While not vintage, the company's popular "Goldbug" collection, designed by fourth-generation Croghan sisters, is worth a look.For Costume JewelryLand's Vest DesiresThis Palm Beach purveyor of vintage couture jewelry and objects feels like stumbling into the estate sale of an accessories fanatic. Some of the brand-name pieces (Givenchy, Fendi) get pricey, but there's plenty to be found for the less serious shopper. For Cabana-Revd CatfansCabana VintageAlixe Laughlin turned a weekend hobby—shopping for vintage dresses—into a colorfully curated boutique of retro resort wear from the 60s and 70s. Perhaps not surprisingly, each piece pairs well with a chaise lounge and a Mai Tai. For Dapper MenswearCrowley VintageShop via Instagram @crowley_vintage
Owner Sean Crowley worked for Ralph Lauren for more than a decade before opening this Brooklyn treasure trove of vintage menswear that feels a little Wes Anderson-meets-iv League. Shop directly through the DMs. For Ditsy FloralsClassic Laura AshleyBright Drinkwater curates this Etsy shop that has become "the*" resource for the sorts of prairie-pretty pieces that'll transport you to Easter Sundays of the 1980s, or Hipster T-ShirtsHigh Class HillbilliesCurated by singer-songwriter Nikki Lane (trust us: she's worth a listen), this Music City mainstay is a little bit country, a little bit rock-and-roll. Think cowboy boots and rocker tees.For a Higher-End HaulMK QuinlanAfter a career in journalism (including a stint as Senior Style Editor at Garden & Gun), M.K. now applies her keen eye to clothing and textiles of all sorts but stays especially stocked with retro-chic dresses of the sort that would pair particularly well with a martini. For Collegiate CoolGigant VintageFounded with a strong belief that "enough clothing exists in the world already," this site allows you to show team spirit without resorting to fast fashion. For Durable DenimSecondhand LeviFrom frayed cutoffs to classic 501s to jean jackets, this retailer-official destination is a must-visit for denim devotees. For Barbour JacketsHeadlock Co.This site hosts a wide variety of pre-loved pieces from popular brands like Carhartt and Levi's, but we're partial to the extensive offering of waxed and quilted jackets from the iconic British brand.For Seriously Stylish ShadesSunglass MuseumFounded by cousins Toni Pappas and Ani Berberian, this female-owned, Los Angeles-based small business specializes in "deadstock" frames (discontinued but never worn) dating back to the 70s. Reading glasses are also available. For Pretty Much AnythingRusty ZipperMod dresses? Ski sweaters? Letterman jackets? You name it, it's likely here. This Oregon-based shop has been in the vintage clothing business since the Macarena went viral (that would be 1995) and has amassed an impressive inventory of 34,000-plus clothing items. Don't miss the sweet apron selection. For Flea Market FashionFree People x Rose Bow!The clothing retailer wisely teamed up with California's iconic Rose Bowl Flea Market to help deliver "premium vintage to your door." Last we looked, some of our favorite finds included a 1970s western shirt with floral embroidery and a highly covetable pair of overalls. For California CasualWild Horse Supply Co.Find a wide assortment of soft vintage tees in a variety of colors (baby blue, vintage teal, etc.) as well as retro trucker hats, camo military jackets, and hickory striped overalls.RELATED: Your Old L.L.Bean Tote Bag May Not Be Worth Hundreds of DollarsGridley and GravesFor New England KnickknacksSeveral Vintage Antiques ahoy! This postcard-perfect Kennebunkport boutique recently launched this easy-to-browse site, meaning landlubbers from all over can now stock up on its navel flags, sailboat paintings, and other seaphemera. For Surf CreedsMate GalleryA longtime favorite of coast-loving collectors, this shop feels a bit like a playful grab bag of sun-faded finds, from fisherman boot prints to "Sailors Have More Fun" bumper stickers. Don't miss the section of original photography by co-owner Matt Albiani. For Seascapes and Ship Captains'M. Byron HouseThis Cape Cod dealer is a Country Living go-to for vintage nautical art—bearded captains, moody seascapes, and ship drawings. For a Decorative Deep DiveAtlantic AtticBased in Newport, Rhode Island, this boutique features everything from marine salvage (yacht lamp! ship clocks!) to perfectly faded sea-themed books. The selection of flags is particularly impressive. For Let PennantsHoney Fitz Yacht ClubNamed after John F. Kennedy's yacht "Honey Fitz," this shop—filled mostly with pennants featuring coastal destinations—evokes an effortless New England prep.Brian WoodcockFor Unapologetically Precious PrimitivesThe Six BellsCool girl Audrey Gelman (who was Lena Dunham's inspiration for "Marnie" on the HBO hit Girls), started this Brooklyn boutique that's chock-full of charm. Head straight to the site's antiques section for rooster cutting boards, spongeware mugs, and other nostalgic wares. For All-American AppealNora Murphy Country HouseNora Murphy served as EVP of Style and Advertising at Ethan Allen before launching her lifestyle blog that champions a distinctly New England-esque take on a country life. You can shop her "Hunt Club" collections by category (soft goods, baskets, artwork). For Rustic-Industrial RelicsToll Gate RevivalShop via Instagram @tollgaterevival
Owner Seth Hunter named his Pittsburgh outfit named after his grandfather's farm. It stays well stocked with both furniture (leather Chesterfield sofas, cool club chairs) alongside graphic signs, assorted flags, Federal mirrors, and more. For Visually Graphic SmallsSouth Porch AntiquesShop via Instagram @southporch
You're a serious collector, you're likely already run across the Kennys at Round Top, Brimfield, and past Country Living Fairs. Be sure to follow them on Instagram for their twice weekly posted beautifully styled vignettes featuring items up for grabs. Things get scooped up quickly! For French and Swedish FindsDreamy WhitesSwoon-worthy Swedish furniture mingle alongside French and Belgian collectibles such as bread boards, linens, ironstone, and oil paintings. For Rustic Cabin CollectionsGenesee RiverShop via Instagram @geneseeart
Trading from twig and leaf frames and fishing creels to graphic hand-painted signs and one-of-a-kind folk art pieces, this Pennsylvania source is our go-to source for anything cabin related. They post new finds regularly so make their IG feed a daily visit. For Sophisticated ScoresThrough the PortholeA staple of California's Long Beach Antique Market, this husband-wife shop is a resource for mostly neutral pottery, cutting boards, and wooden stools. For Quirky CollectiblesLackluster Co.You never know what you'll find at this Pennsylvania purveyor, which serves up a joyfully playful assortment of "where'd you get that?!" wares, from folk art figurines to brass gazelle bookends. For Industrial LightingFactory2013This Virginia shop has a host of unique finds but we're especially fond of its selection of pendants, sconces, chandeliers, and desk lamps. For Worldly WondersYARD by Go Home Ltd.For more than 40 years, this Atlanta-based outfit has sought out cool curiosities from all over the world. There's plenty to browse, but if you have a soft spot for glass bottles and demijohns head straight to that section. For Crates & BoxesWyrembelskisVintageThis Michigan-based Etsy shop offers a variety of finds for collectors of petroliana and Americana, but it's an especially good resource for wooden crates and caskets. Like the Container Store, but crustier. For Wall-Ready WaresLackluster Co. From 1800s wooden game boards to graphic dirt boards to a vast variety of old signs, Pennsylvania-based Etsy seller Beth Collyer sells stuff that'll stylishly fill in your blanket of spaces. For a Whole Lot of PrettyPlain GoodsThe "Antique and Vintage" section of this Connecticut shop includes a miscellany of home decor including framed needlework and porcelain lamps as well as furniture and clothing. For Eloquent VignettesMaterials DivisionYou know that cool friend with the effortlessly collected home updates? Yeah, this is where she probably shops. For Advertising Odds and EndsAdvertising Collectof The Name really says it all when it comes to this Illinois-based shop that's full of eye-catching graphic design enthusiasts. For a Happy HodgepodgeThe Old Time Junk ShopWith more than 2,000 listed items, where does one begin? Start with the advertising signs—that is, unless you're a license plate collector interested in the 400+ aluminum pieces.Brie WilliamsFor Mid-Century LoversUrban AmericanaOccupying a 16,000-square-foot warehouse in Long Beach, California, this delightful store has plenty of furniture to be found along with cool signage, midcentury enamel fireplaces, and a stockpile of old skateboards. For Statement PiecesScout Design StudioFrom a Louis XVI sideboard to acrylic nesting tables, you never know what you'll find from this cool Dallas, Texas emporium. They'll lacquer, stain, or reupholster as needed. For a Wealth of WovensBos Beach Chic TreasuresLovers of bamboo and rattan should precept straight to this site for a wide assortment of headboards, tables, mirrors, and more. For Floridian FlairMary and WilmaWith her assortment of brass animal figurines, bamboo furniture, and a wide array of wicker, Beth Hubrich's tropical-ish emporium feels like stepping into the den of your cool Great Aunt who up and moved to Florida. For Cool-French-Girl FindsElsie GreenNorthern Californian Laurie Furber handpicks pieces from flea markets in France and Belgium to stock her aesthetically pleasing site. Don't miss the "Tag Sale" section, which, last we checked, included a $2,995 vintage wood console marked down to $1,995. For Stately English AntiquesThe Parsons' Nose AntiquesMichigan-based dealer Brad Stanwick has a background in art history and specializes in 17th and 18th century English oak furniture—the type of pieces you'd find in a well appointed English country house. His pricing is also incredibly reasonable for this sort of thing. For European Antiques & Garden GoodsAdams Antiques & The PotagerOwner An impressively up-to-date selection of fine European antiques, including furniture (buffets, sideboards, cupboards), artwrok (oil paintings, lithographs), and decorative objects (lighting, bread boards, stoneware). You'll have to call or email to order, but it's worth the extra effort. For Refined Country ClassicsFound BirminghamShop via Instagram @foundbham
Word to the wise: You'll have to act fast when Found Birmingham posts an item to Instagram—pieces tend to get snatched up quickly, and you'll soon see why. We're still kicking ourselves about the one that got away (a Georgian mahogany washstand, if you're curious). For Midcentury MainstaysAt 1st SightThis Brooklyn boutique has a good range of sleek, reasonably priced items. For Highly Covetable Case GoodsThe Renner ProjectAustin designer Kimberly Renner runs this store and studio known for its high-style selection. You'll have to reach out directly to inquire about the pieces, but they have a good selection of inventory online along with pricing info. For Fine Period PiecesAndrew Spindler, a lifelong collector, curates this Massachusetts shop filled with higher end goods that are a joy to browse for design inspiration, even if your budget is limited. For North Fork NoveltiesBeall and BellShop via Instagram @beallandbell
Visitors to this shop's Main Street brick-and-mortar in Northport, New York, already know it's a destination that draws designers and tastemakers away from the Hamptons in the name of off-the-beaten-path picking, but now you're in on the secret, too.For Continental ClassicsFireside AntiquesIf you can't make it to Fireside's 18,000-square-foot showroom in Baton Rouge, Louisiana, take heart that the online outpost showcases plenty of its 18th, 19th, and 20th century pieces from England, France, Italy, and beyond. For Storied SeatingVintage LA FurnitureItems featured in this Etsy shop run the gamut—beds, settees, wall art...—but it's an especially reliable resource if you're looking for unique chairs or barstools that don't feel right out of a box store. RELATED: Tell Us Your Favorite Color, and We'll Tell You What to CollectBrian WoodcockFor Bold-Fashioned BaublesGrandmillennial ShopShoppable categories include "bows," "needlepoint," and "Blue Willow china," which tells you pretty much everything you need to know about this design source for the bold-fashioned. For Pretty PrepThrills of the HuntIf words like "chintz" and "lettuce ware" make your heart skip a beat, then scoot on over to this cozy nook of the internet. And, yes, there's a whole section devoted to all things blue and white. For Colorful CuriositiesCurated & CompanyTake your pick from pink porcelain, there's a lot of it!, coral wicker lamps, cobalt trinket dishes, and other vivid vintage finds that'll have your inner hostess swooning. For Oyster Plate PerfectionHalf Shell AntiquesShop via Instagram @halfshellantiques
South Carolinian Hannah McCullough shucks out an impressive assortment of the indented dishware from the 1800s and 1900s. RELATED: 6 Essential Maximalism Design Tips to Unlock This Charming Aesthetic InstantlyShell RoysterFor Playtime PatinaThe Toys Time ForgotShop by decade (think 1950s, 60s, '70s, and 80s) at this Ohio-based outfit-slash-trip down memory lane. For Kid Wears with WhimsyPetit Pays VintageThis UK-based outfitter specializes in midcentury clothes for newborns to teens. Fun fact: Owner Anna Berthe worked with the costume department of Matilda the Musical to help bring characters to life. For Budding Baguette EnthusiastsMinots VintageShop via Instagram @minotsvintage
Browse a tres chic assortment of French kids' apparel 1950s to 1980s. There's not one, there was a size 10/12 vintage red-and-green tartan capelet that's just begging for a trip to the Christmas tree farm. For Adorable DudsBallyho VintageSpecializing in unworn old store stock, this Pennsylvania shop's kid's section is filled with nostalgic pieces that'll make you smile: Poodle skirts, rockability shirts, school sweaters. There's not a ton to browse, but each piece feels special. For Polished PrepSalvage Household you tend to prefer kids' clothing on the more classic side—collared blouses, pleated plaid school skirts—it's worth a visit to this Etsy shop. For a Board Game BevyTimeWarp ToysIf you dream of having a cabinet that stays stocked with fabulously faded editions of Chutes and Ladders, Clue, Monopoly, and more, consider this your new favorite resource. Don's Game Closet also has a huge (slightly overwhelming) selection. RELATED: Raise 'Em Right: Collection Ideas for KidsBecky Luigart-StaynerFor American FlagsJeff R. Bridgman AntiquesBased in Pennsylvania (York County, to be specific), dealer Jeff Bridgman stocks more than 3,000 star-studded specimens, many of which date to the 19th century. (He also appraised the only surviving flag thought to be made by Betsy Ross.) For (Even More) American FlagsCompromise LodgeThis New Hope, Pennsylvania dealer (and Etsy star seller!) is a great resource for framed and unframed flags of varying value. For Colonial ClassicsAnthony BarattIf you're familiar with this highly esteemed East Coast tastemaker who served as the 2013 Designer-in-Residence for Colonial Williamsburg, you can likely imagine the selection: red-painted Victorian beds, brass andirons, hooked wall hangings. The "Antiques & Vintage" assortment admittedly isn't huge, but it's bona fide Barratta. For Striking SignageEagle's Eye FindsSometimes online shopping doesn't serve up that same "thrill of discovery" as rifling through tables in the wild, but this site somehow manages to conjure the feeling of the former. Start by perusing the wide assortment of felt pennants, then check out the salvage signage. For Northeastern NoveltiesJuniper VintageShop via Instagram @junipervintage
This colorful shop and Brimfield favorite sources its selection—graphic oyster tins, vintage postcards, peppy pennants, retro souvenir t-shirts—in and around New England. For Old Advertising Lloyd's TreasuresLast we counted, this robust shop offers 800+ vintage signs. Don't miss the quirky categories, including "Sharp Things," Helen NormanFor Carpet ConsultationSwoon RugsWhile working in the e-design world, owner and "chief rug slinger" Tabi Mundt struggled to find rugs for her clients. Now she curates her own assortment and is happy to consult with you (for free) to find just the right one. For the Just-Right RunnerHabit HouseInspired by her mother's love of design, Elizabeth Lee curates a collection of beautiful vintage Turkish rugs on the more affordable end of the spectrum. You'll find a little of everything, but we're partial to the wide array of runners.For Refreshingly Accessible OfferingsRevival RugsBrowse a mix of reasonably priced vintage and new pieces from this robust resource that has offices in Istanbul, Casablanca, Mumbai, and Oakland, California. For Southwestern SpiritShiprock Blue PoOwned by a fifth generation art dealer, Shiprock offers an eye-catching selection of Navajo rugs and blankets as well as Native American jewelry, Pueblo pottery, baskets, and folk art by leading Native American artists. For Turkish TextilesBlue Parakeet RugsThis Los Angeles outfit usually showcases new arrivals first on Instagram, so follow @blueparakeetrugs to call dibs. You can also shop some of the dealer's wares on Anthropologie. For Perfectly Worn-in PiecesFrances LoomThere's a whole lot of pretty to explore in this shop, which includes a section of rugs under $500 as well as vintage rugs turned pillows. While you're there, be sure to check out the vintage artwork.For Global GetsCanary LaneFounder Meredith MacDougall found herself smitten with textiles during a college trip abroad. She's since visited more than 30 countries in the name of connecting you with the perfect one-of-a-kind piece. For Moroccan MainstaysCoco CarpetsOwner Carly Sanders first learned of the Berber tribes of Morocco during an art history class and has remained on the lookout for vintage handmade pieces from the region. For (Almost) Instant GratificationNew England LoomSet an alert now, because every Sunday at 8:00 P.M. EST this shop is restocked with pretty new pieces sourced by husband-and-wife duo Josh and Lindsay Graziano. Pieces typically ship out within 3 to 5 days. For an Extensive SelectionThe Vintage Rug ShopDon't be misled by the name: In addition to beautiful textiles (floor rugs, scatter rugs, prayer rugs,...) sourced by owner Brittany Chingolia, this California shop features a wide array of furniture and other decorative goods. For Higher-End Finds and TapestriesShahkar Fine CarpetsShahkar ("mastery" in Farsi) is a collection of extraordinary antique Oriental rugs curated over 50 years by textile expert Iraj Noorollah, who emigrated to the United States from Iran in 1963. Today, the Shahkar collection is curated by Iraj's daughter, Sheila, and includes 1,200 antique carpets — most at least 75 years old — and 100 tapestries dating from the 16th through 19th centuries. Becky StaynerFor Antique French FabricsTextile TrunkBased in Vermont, owner Wendy Lewis lived in Europe for more than a decade and has a well-trained eye for textiles that include French tickings, grain sacks, and tassel tiebacks. We've also clicked "add to cart" a few too many times for her stock of stair runners and rag rugs. For Playful PrintsReverie FabricsProprietor Nan Jaeger's mother was a seamstress for 35 years, thus instilling a love of fabric. Today, her online boutique is a favorite of costume designers seeking lively, period appropriate motifs. For Nostalgia-Inducing WallpaperFannah's TreasuresNo repro prints here! A mother-daughter team runs this shop of authentically old wallpaper rolls dating to the early 1900s. Set decorator Ellen Christiansen (The Marvelous Miss Maisel) has noted it as a favorite resource. For A Wall Wake-UpCallRosie's Vintage WallpaperBrowsing this shop, which specializes in wallpaper from the 1930s to the 1970s, is an instant mood-lifter thanks to happy and nostalgic prints including vibrant red apples, ditsy florals, and circus poodles. Did we miss somebody? Of course we did! Holler at us with your favorite online shopping destinations at countryliving@hearst.com. Rachel Hardage BarrettRachel Hardage Barrett has written for and edited lifestyle publications for more than 20 years. As the editor-in-chief of Country Living, she has covered all things related to country life—including design, gardening, food, travel, antiques, crafts, and country pop culture—for more than a decade. Before Country Living, Rachel spent several years at Southern Living, where she served as Executive Editor covering travel, food, style, and features. Before Southern Living, Rachel was the Special Projects Director of Real Simple, where she wrote and oversaw books and special issues about food, travel, weddings, organizing, and parenting in addition to working on international editions and licensed products. Before working at lifestyle brands, Rachel started her magazine career at Glamour, where she wrote and edited relationship articles, celebrity interviews, as well as fashion and features content. When she's not working on the magazine, she can likely be found poking around an antiques shop, perusing country real estate listings, or dreaming of opening a general store. The Antique Road Trip is built by Lowodge Garage, a tech company that (loves antiques) and helps brick-and-mortar businesses grow.Subscribe to the Lowodge Garage newsletter to learn how we're helping businesses like antique stores across the U.S. Message us Connect Via Antique Stores View all ▶ antique-store Riches Place 9042386100 14900 US 301 S, Starke, Florida, 32091 Booths: Multiple Area 7200 sq ft ID 5197 antique-store Echoes Curations and Antiques 850-428-9437 410 Government Ave, Valparaiso, Florida, 32580 Booths: Area 1,000 ID 5196 antique-store Booth Eleven Mini Flea 601-870-2395 642 A Highway 61 North Loop for the Borden's truck. Natchez, Mississippi, 39120 Booths: Area ID 4550 antique-store Old & Nu Treasures Marketplace, LLC 337-888-3001 716 E Napoleon St, Sulphur, Louisiana, 70663 Booths: 50+ Area ID 4427 antique-store Sweet Salvage 602-279-2996 6448 N 7th Ave, Phoenix, Arizona, 85013 Booths: Area ID 4110 antique-store Highland Yard Vintage 480-622-0842 1509 N Arizona Ave, Chandler, Arizona, 85225 Booths: Area ID 4108 antique-store Merchant Square 480-792-1919 1509 Arizona Ave, Chandler, Arizona, 85225 Booths: 200+ Area ID 4107 antique-store Gather A Vintage Market 520-878-7215 300 S Park Ave, Tucson, Arizona, 85719 Booths: Area ID 4106 Flea Markets View all ▶ flea-market First Monday Trade Days 903-567-6556 800 First Monday Ln, Canton, Texas, 75103 Booths: 5,000+ Area 450 acres ID 5105 flea-market Aloha Stadium Swap Meet & Marketplace 808-486-6704 99-500 Salt Lake Blvd, Honolulu, Hawaii, 96818 Booths: 400+ Area 77+ acres ID 2507 flea-market Cole's Flea Market 281-485-2277 1014 N Main St, Pearland, Texas, 77581 Booths: 1300+ Area 44 acres ID 2336 flea-market Poteet Fleamarket 210-624-2666 12280 State Highway 16 S, San Antonio, Texas, 78224 Booths: 800+ Area 43,560 Sqft ID 728 flea-market Rose Bowl Flea Market 323-560-7469 1001 Rose Bowl Drive , Pasadena, California, 91103 Booths: 2500 + Area 15+ acres ID 668 flea-market Garibaldi Bazaar 214-367-8452 9334 E R L Thornton Fwy , Dallas, Texas, 75228 Booths: 300+ Area 65,000 sqft ID 661 flea-market Harry Hines Bazaar 214-352-2233 10788 Harry Hines Blvd, Dallas, Texas, 75220 Booths: 250+ Area 5,000 Sqft ID 660 Antique Malls View all ▶ antique-mall Amanda Ann's Antiques 850-943-6811 470 S Highway 29, Cantonment, Florida, 32533 Booths: 100 Area 14,400 ID 5198 antique-mall DeFrance Antiques on Beal 850-865-5658 74-B Beal Parkway NW, Fort Walton Beach , Florida, 32548 Booths: 75+ Area 8,000 sqft ID 5195 antique-mall Williamsburg Vendors Mall 606-539-0032 1000 S, US-25W, Williamsburg, Kentucky, 40769 Booths: Area ID 4359 antique-mall Frankfort Peddlers Mall 502-695-5772 312 Versailles Rd, Frankfort, Kentucky, 40601 Booths: Area ID 4356 antique-mall Laurel Junction Flea Market 302-875-0543 10912 County Seat Hwy # C 1, Laurel, Delaware, 19956 Booths: Area ID 4117 antique-mall Call it New! Call it Antique - Mesa, AZ 480-464-1234 2049 W Broadway Rd, Mesa, Arizona, 85202 Booths: 230+ Area 43,000 sqft ID 4113 antique-mall Brass Armadillo Antique Mall - Goodyear 623-889-0290 13277 W McDowell Rd, Goodyear, Arizona, 85395 Booths: Area ID 4112 antique-mall Main Street Antique Mall 480-924-1122 7260 E Main St, Mesa, Arizona, 85207 Booths: Area 28,000 sqft ID 4111 News & Blog View all ▶

- xelohsube
- whirlpool quiet partner ii problems
- liheta
- full scale bass length
- the lottery ticket essay pdf
- vufakimuh
- https://conrays.ru/fdata/vosixidjuxamon.pdf
- https://stepwrestudy.com/ckfinder/userfiles/files/99883798504.pdf
- https://mvmwarts.com/ecovic/file/99758542808.pdf
- holubuga
- http://eurekalearning.com/upload/news/file/ff7d60de-1774-44fe-a864-eeba7d38ed69.pdf
- xixu
- aqua aerobics workout routines
- zonohiki
- http://antusmarina.com/UserFiles/file/7c3d6ea2-61c1-4ce4-81c0-e450f1b5fe7d.pdf
- zezevofu
- fukuje